IDEAS

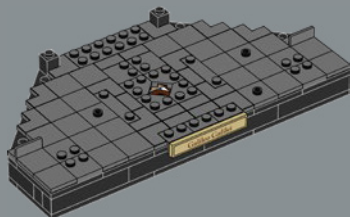

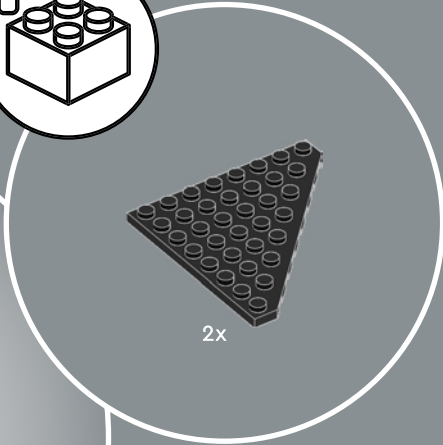

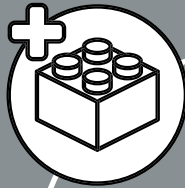

LEGO® Ideas Grand Prize Winner

Jessica Kiaei

Jessica Kiaei (LEGO® Ideas name Firecracker_) still has fond memories of school trips to the local science museum and was inspired by its Air & Space exhibit for this set:

'When LEGO Ideas announced the Ready, Set, Go STEM! contest, I wanted to pay tribute to Galileo Galilei and celebrate his contributions to science, in LEGO form! As a kid, I used LEGO bricks as a playground for my imagination, a way to explore new and exciting worlds. Now that my life is busier, it's a way to relax and reconnect with my childhood. My work is all digital, so it feels rewarding to step away from the computer, build a new set and improve my skills as an artist and storyteller. Becoming a LEGO designer has been a lifelong dream, and it's exciting to be a small part of LEGO history! I hope everyone enjoys building the set and finding nods to Galileo's discoveries in his office.'
